

The Lindis

In the pristine Ahuriri Valley in New Zealand's South Island, a unique iconic luxury boutique hotel has been created on its own site of over 6000 acres and surrounded on three sides by conservation parks. Guests can take advantage of one of the top ten fly fishing locations in the world, which is but a short stroll down from the lodge. Hiking, mountain climbing, mountain biking and horse riding are also available onsite or guests can simply choose to unwind and relax in this idyllic setting, see the Milky Way at night and listen to the sound of silence. In an ever fast moving and stressful world we hope to give our guests the opportunity to slow down and enjoy the stillness of nature in modern, sophisticated luxury.

Guests enjoy a complimentary after dinner activity, stargazing. Head outside into the night sky and using a star map you will be able to learn about the stars you can see, while using an app to find stars and constellations.
